IMPERIALISM AND FRANCE.

The monstrous perversion of Justice in the Dreyfus case, as it appears to Americans, is the logical outcome of the curse of imperialism with which France has struggled for so many years.

The dream of empire, the desire of commercial supremacy, the effort to maintain national prestige at home in competition with the mighty powers of Europe have caused the upbuilding of a powerful military arm of the government, which has changed the sentiments and aspirations of the people and become the supreme power of the state. Militarism is sapping the resources of the French people and is crushing out the principles of justice, liberty and equality which lie at the foundation of the Republic.

With ambition, avarice, glory, power and wealth enthroned-all being centered in the army-is it surprising that simple justice should be denied to Dreyfus, representative as of the powerful elements that dominate French national and social affairs?

If Dreyfus is found innocent at the conclusion of his mock trial, as may well be doubted, it will be due rather to a miscarriage of the sinister plans of his enemies than a desire to do him justice.

In this great drama now being enacted in France there is a solemn warning for the American people. If they permit imperialism and milibe thrust upon their country, there is grave dauger, as was so well said by Senator Hoar, that America also "shall go what is alike the common great republics of the past."

A GERMAN EDITOR'S VIEWS

Of the Proposed Campaign Opening at Akron---Condemns Hanna's Attempt to Bolster up Imperialism.

Editor Seybold, of the Akron Germania, for being the editor of an independent Republican paper, has some very positive views on the subject of the Hanna campaign opening at Akron. He is not afraid to express them. Read what he says:

"The local Republicans are making the opening of the Ohio campaign at Akron, September 23, a grand demonstration. Not alone will Roosevelt of New York be here but a number of famous politicians are expected, to add weight to the affair.

"Senator Hanna, who is now being 'rocked' homeward by the waves of the Atlantic ocean, will also be present.

"The Republican clubs of Cincinnati, Columbus, Cleveland etc., will, as has been assured, be present to prove to the people of Ohio that, regardless of the 'traitors' who have been casting insulting insinuations at the bloody war in the Philippines, there are yet some 'loyal' Republicans left who will stand by the glorious McKinley administration.

"The object, undoubtedly, of the Republican demonstration is to magnify the excellence of the McKinley Administration; to throw sand into the eyes of the people, so they cannot see where the Administration at Washington, with its large number of wellpaid beneficiaries and war heroes, has landed them; to surround the taxpayers who pay the bills with a 'blue fog' that they should not notice the extravagance that has been put upon

"But this will cause the Republican managers considerable labor and annoyance, and it will all be for naught.

"The strong opposition to imperialism is noticeable everywhere, and the speech made by President McKinley at Pittsburg added power to the rapidly spreading anti-imperialistic feeling.

"The Republicans will have to resort to superhuman means and the Democrats to unparallelled stupidity if we don't see a long list of Hanna-Republicans defeated at the election this fall."
